Dr. H. M. G. Starr,

112 College Street,

Toronto.

Dear Dr. Starr:

I have to thank you for your letter enclosing an extract from "Public Opinion". I had already heard that there was a shortage of medical men, and this combined with the demands occasioned by the war will I suppose open many suitable positions for men from this side. As you say it is another strong argument in favour of reciprocity with the Medical Council of Great Britain.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.
